TEAM 3RD IN INTERCOLLEGIATE

Hamilton Does Surprisingly Well in the Fast N. Y. S. I. A. U. Meet at Rome—Wenigmann Star of Day—Colson Equals World's Record in High Hurdles, and Eggleston Easily Breaks Our Record for Two-mile.

The Fifteenth Annual Field and Track Meet of the New York State Intercollegiate Athletic Union was held on Decoration Day at Riverside Park, Rome, under the auspices of the Romahawks—the business men's organization of that city. Although the Hobart, St. Lawrence, and Vermont teams failed to appear, and Rochester's best men were in the accident ward, the meet was a good one, three records going by the board and the average of performance being excellent.

Colgate won easily, as expected, with 70 1-3 points; at the very end, Union nosed Hamilton out of second place, 33 1-3 points to 29; Rochester was fourth with 10 points.

The day was auspicious, warm and clear, with just a breath of air sweeping up the straight. The crowd was almost entirely local, none of the competing colleges having any noticeable corps of followers. Wanting yelling or other boisterous enthusiasm, the Romahawk Band furnished excellent organized noise, somewhat to the discomfiture of "Bill" Cody, '08, who announced. The track was slow and like all trotting tracks rather uncertain in its measurements for foot racing.

The affair of the day was the high hurdle. In an exciting race Colson beat Pickard a yard, in time announced as 15 1-5 seconds, the Intercollegiate and World's Record time. None of the hurdlers pretended to clear the flights, and the course resembled cyclone debris after the race. Unfortunately the record can find no place in the books. Baker, Colgate, lowered O'Neill's long standing record in the 440 to 51 1-5 seconds. Stipp, Colgate, added almost three feet to the shot figures, with a put of 41 feet 10¾ inches. Baker, of Union, jumped beautifully in the broad, but as the take-off was several inches high his leap of 22 feet 4 inches should not be accepted as a record.

Wenigmann was the star of the meet, leading all the way in both dashes, his running in the two-twenty upsetting Colgate's expectations, and making a new Hamilton record, 22 3-5 seconds, one of the best performances of the meet. Wenigmann also took a good second in the broad jump, and third in the shot, a total of fifteen points.

LeBarron, Union, ran a clever half, following the hot pace and easily breezing to the front when he wanted to win. Eggleston showed impressively in the two mile, outfooting and outjudging his field, and lowering his own and the Hamilton record to 10:11 2-5.

Hamilton's showing was a surprise, as only eight men entered and took four firsts, as against Union's three and two-thirds first places, and Colgate's five. But as the summary shows, Hamilton was woefully lacking in all-round strength. Shaul and Gaige ran plucky but ill-judged races in the quarter and half. Team mates would have helped them greatly. Places didn't come high in the high jump and a couple of fair entries there might have put Hamilton in second place. Had a sub-manager taken down Jessup's hammer instead of a 12-pounder, Hamilton might very possibly have beaten Union out.

The meet was well managed. Prof. Calvin L. Lewis was an efficient clerk of course, and with Manager Peck and an industrious corps of assistants kept things moving with precision and speed.

The summaries:

One mile run—Won by Bezant, Colgate; Rowe, Colgate, second; Streever, Union, third. Time, 4 minutes 46 seconds.

440 yard run—Won by Baker, Colgate; McLaughlin, Colgate, second; Billemann, Rochester, third. Time, 51 1-5 seconds.

120 yard hurdles—Won by Colson, Hamilton; Pickard, Colgate, second; Reese, Colgate, third. Time, 15 1-5 seconds.

100 yard run—Won by Wenigmann, Hamilton; Baldwin, Colgate, second; Huntington, Colgate, third. Time, 10 2-5 seconds.

Two mile run—Won by Eggleston, Hamilton; Carney, Colgate, second; Vedder, Union, third. Time, 10 minutes 11 2-5 seconds.

880 yard run—Won by LeBarron, Union; Rugg, Rochester, second; Baker, Colgate, third. Time, 2 minutes 3 seconds.

220 yard low hurdles—Won by Pickard, Colgate; Colson, Hamilton, second; Leonard, Colgate, third. Time, 26 4-5 seconds.

220 yard run—Won by Wenigmann, Hamilton; Huntington, Colgate, second; Baldwin, Colgate, third. Time, 22 3-5 seconds.

Shotput—Won by Stipp, Colgate; Blanchard, Colgate, second; Wenigmann, Hamilton, third. Distance, 41 feet 10¾ inches.

Pole vault—Marsh, Colgate, Marsh, Union, and Riley, Union, tied for first. Height, 10 feet 4¾ inches.

High jump—Won by Baker, Union; Gucker, Rochester, and Dickinson, Union, tied for second. Height, 5 feet 5 inches.

Hammer throw—Won by Blanchard, Colgate; Wilkinson, Colgate, second; Stipp, Colgate, third. Distance, 111 feet 7 inches.

Broad jump—Won by Baker, Union; Wenigmann, Hamilton, second; Marsh, Colgate, third. Distance, 22 feet 4 inches.

—The 1912 Hamiltonian will be for sale on or about June 16.

OLYMPIADS DE LUXE.

The occult powers of this year's Varsity nine have been discovered. The key to the whole situation was discovered on last Thursday afternoon when the players indulged in base running against time, after the usual grilling practice. Sidle, the bay-window outfielder, made good time. One of the pretty features of the afternoon was the race between Woods and Callahan, the heavenly twins. The two ran around the circuit together, hand in hand, on their innocent faces the simple, loving smile of childlike faith. An accident nearly marred the occasion, when "Dave" Hallock, in a moment of inspired brilliancy, ran between "Poose's" legs as the two were rounding third base, mistaking the bow-like shanks for the football goal posts. Natural energy and consistent training have worked wonders for "Hank" Watkins. His snappy stride in the dash around the bases was accountable for his remarkable time of twenty-eight seconds. Coach Roberts of the track team was an interested spectator and, following the event, had a prolonged conference with Captains Allen and Colson, discussing the advisability of entering Henry in the dashes in the St. Lawrence meet to replace "Dutch" Wenigmann, disabled.

George Spider Eddy and his eclectic Bacchian cohorts left by stage coach Decoration Day morning on their Southern barn storming tour. Like the immortal "Cubs" of yesteryear, they are equally rotten in all departments of the national game, but possesses "Dave" Wills' prolific lingo ad nauseam, "Jim" Flagler's languor, reminiscent of Eva Tanguay and New England thrift, and a natural highly developed affection for the little fellows under the rear seat. At Waterville, the objective point of the schedule, they met their Waterloo. Harper pitched, and the score keeper left in the fourth inning, having lost complete account of the hits with which the locals fattened their averages. "Mugs" Mason fell in the same duck pond that dampened "Bump" Jones a year ago. Otherwise the game was featureless. "Little Greek" and "Bib accompanied the squad as rooters and waterboys.

NEW REGIME AT COMMONS.

At a meeting, on May 31, of Upperclassmen representing each crowd, President Stryker presented the plan adopted by the Executive Committee for the management of Commons next year.

The entire management of Common's board will be left to a committee consisting of a chairman appointed by the Executive Committee and a member representing each society or group of students eating in Commons. One of the committee may act as steward, or they may hire a steward on whatever terms they see fit. They will fix the price of board and the standard of food and service. They will hire all assistants, receive all funds, and pay all bills. The College Bursar will, however, if requested by the Commons Committee, collect the board bills and turn the receipts over to the Committee.

Theodore D. Martin has been named by the Executive Committee as chairman of the Commons Committee. Sigma Phi will continue to board at Commons and Alpha Delta Phi is expected to return. At least two other societies are reported to have the question of eating at Commons under serious consideration.

The management of Commons now becomes an undergraduate activity.

EDITORIAL.

Criticism has been directed against the spirit shown in an article in last week's Life which stated that Hamilton could not be certain of better than fourth place in the Rome meet, although there was an excellent chance of securing third. The writer of this article was governed primarily by the opinion of the Track Manager; he also followed the settled policy of Life in that he did not permit any undue optimism to creep into his prophecy.

The function of the article in question was to give the readers of Life grounds on which to base reasonable expectations of what the Team was to do. In all such articles, Life aims to instruct the Alumni rather than the College, which, in most cases, is as well informed as Life can be. Possibly this attitude is wrong; possibly Life should more completely be devoted to the College. But Life has over three hundred and fifty Alumni subscribers. Should they not be considered? And is it desirable that Life should give them an exaggerated idea of the ability of our teams, and then have to disappoint them when the results of the contests shall be announced? We think not.

As was stated in an editorial in last week's number, Life does not view with satisfaction the presence of pessimism here but, inasmuch as such a feeling does exist and is very evident, why be blind, why be bigoted? Admit its presence. But you say that Life should endeavor to remove this feeling and to revive the "fighting spirit of the good old days." The spirit of the College is entirely healthy, for it rests upon a true knowledge of the ability of our teams. There will never be an optimistic spirit here until we win games consistently. We shall never win games consistently until we get more men, more competition among the candidates for positions on our teams. The sooner we all realize these facts and strike at the cause, the better. Why waste effort in endeavoring to create an artificial enthusiasm? But we do not want a mere show of optimism, temporary and insincere; what we do want is the confidence of the College in its teams and the confidence of the members of the teams in themselves. The College is doing all that reasonably can be expected under the depressing influence of continuous defeat. The teams are doing all that can be expected against teams selected from larger enrollments than our own. Recognize these things and give due praise.

Whatever censure may be incurred, Life is not going to cry out for a home run from every batter, nor is it going to expect the Track Team to do what is considered improbable by the most competent judges—the Manager and Coach of the Team.

We have outlined the plan under which Commons it to be managed next year. It constitutes an attempt to solve a troublesome problem by an entirely new method of attack. Up to the present time Commons has not fulfilled its possibilities of usefulness. It has not served enough of the college body, nor has it served any of the college body satisfactorily. The present system is to throw the responsibility upon those most directly interested.

The chairman of the Commons Committee has been well selected. Martin is a man of judgment and experience, accustomed to responsibility. With capable co-workers he can be trusted to realize the fullest possibilities of the new scheme. If under new management, the men now eating in Commons are satisfied, one step in progress will have been made. If the service is so excellent as to attract other groups, a longer step will have been made towards the ideal of a Commons that really is a common diningroom for the College.

The trouble between the 1911 Hamiltonian Board and Browning, the printer of the book, has been settled, we are thankful, entirely to our satisfaction. The investigating committee fully substantiated the Manager's story of the transactions between himself and Browning, and, on the other hand, discovered that the printer could produce no evidence to prove his allegations.

We hope that this trouble will conclude all business relations of the College with Browning.

Lodging has been provided in empty rooms of Carnegie for ten men. Are these rooms intended to accommodate Alumni during Commencement? The President would vouchsafe no definite information. Life hopes that this profound secrecy will accomplish its purpose.

—Warfield, '89, Scovel, '04, Ferris, '06, and Carroll, '06, have written their approval of the proposed Commencement Program.

HAMILTON 66, ST. LAWRENCE 51.

Hamilton had little trouble in defeating St. Lawrence in the dual track meet here last Saturday afternoon, in spite of the fact that illness kept Wenigmann from participating. The final score was 66-51, but had Wenigmann competed, he would doubtless have lowered the visitor's score by about twenty points. The day was ideal for the meet, but lack of competition and the poor condition of the track prevented fast time from being made.

An unusual occurrence marked the 100 yard dash. The judges, who were picking the second and third men at the finish, both selected the same man, Robinson, '14. There was some discussion concerning the decision and, after a conference, he was awarded second place, third going to Griffiths of St. Lawrence. Robinson ran a fine race, so that we hope the decision was accurate.

Several other inexperienced members of the team, notably Davis, Lyon and Lee, showed surprisingly good form. Davis took second in a fast quarter after running a hard race in which he led most of the way. Lee was a close second to Gaige in the half-mile, which was run in 2:08.4. Lyon's unexpected performance in the high jump assured the result of the meet. Clearing five feet four inches with ease, he captured first in the event and his "H" with it.

Four men won the 1911 "H" in the meet: Gaige, Donaldson, Don Root, and Lyon, '14. Don Root left baseball practice long enough to win the shot put with a heave of 34 feet three inches. Root has not worked much in track this season and, in fact, has done nothing since the Interclass Meet, and his performance was, therefore, highly commendable.

In the pole vault Hamilton took all three places, Day, Donaldson and Peters all tying at 10 feet. In deciding first place, Donaldson won with a vault of 10 feet four inches, with Day second and Peters third.

PLEASANT RECITAL IN CHAPEL.

Because of its late announcement, very few turned out to hear a very pleasant recital given in the Chapel the evening of June 1. Mrs. Seely Brown played several violin solos, accompanied by Thompson, '12, and a charming duet with Heidner, '13. Allen, '11, and Thompson, '12, sang solos. Especially pleasing was the "Madrigal" played by Heidner, '13. The last number, a duet for organ and violin, was very interesting. The program follows:

1. Toccata, by Duboise, Thompson, '12.
2. Aria and Gavotte, by Bach, Mrs. Brown.
3. Sapphic Ode, by Brahms, Allen, '11.
4. Madrigal, by Simonetti, Heidner, '13.
5. Ach Lieb, ich muss nun scheiden, by Strauss, Thompson, '12.
6. Minuet, by Godard, Mrs. Brown and Heidner, '13.
7. Adagio from duet in A minor, by Christian Sinding, Mrs. Brown.
8. Praeludium and Gavotti, by Max Reger, organ and violin duet, Mrs. Brown and Thompson, '12.

PHI BETA KAPPA CHAPTERS.

On Friday night, June 2nd, the Hamilton Chapter of Phi Beta Kappa entertained about twenty-five men of the chapter from Colgate. The guests, met by carriages, spent an hour before dinner in viewing the Campus and college buildings, when, at seven o'clock, in Commons Hall, Caterer Merz served an excellent dinner.

With the coffee and cigars, Dr. Brandt, as President of the Hamilton Chapter, presided over the "intellectual symposium," and introduced the post-prandial speakers. Dr. Andrews, of the Greek Department of Colgate College, read a paper on "College Education, Vocational or Cultural." He emphasized the importance of mathematics, science and philosophy, as fundamentals for a liberal education, necessary for the highest attainment of true culture and broad-mindedness in the ideal teacher. At the close of this interesting paper, the President of the Colgate Chapter arose and thanked the Hamilton Chapter for the kind invitation to dine, and for the hospitality extended. He spoke of this, the first entertainment of its kind in the history of the two institutions, as but the beginning of more intimate and friendly relations between the colleges. Dr. Judson and Mr. Sheldon of Colgate and Dr. Fitch, Dr. Ibbotson and Prof. Ward of Hamilton responded informally.

The remainder of the evening was enjoyed socially, until it was time for the guests to leave on the Cannonball Prof. Smith remained in Clinton, and lectured Saturday to the Freshman Trigonometry class on the "Theory of Imaginaries."

—Fitch, '08, will be one of the five Commencement speakers at Harvard this year.

—The third appointment to the Fellowship in Greek, founded by Franklin D. Locke, '64, has been awarded to Claude Egmont Anibal of Gloversville, N. Y.

—The Executive Committee of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace has appointed S. N. D. North, '69, as statistician for the three branches of that fund—international law, economics, and intercourse.

1911 VERSUS BROWNING.

With a meeting of the Senior Class and the rendering of a committee report by Wisehart, Getman, and E. H. Jones, comes the intelligence that the business relations of 1911 and George William Browning have been thoroughly investigated and that the committee is now ready to recommend action. While rumor has long been rampant on the Campus that the Class was still in Browning's debt and that, on the other hand, 1911 had a counter claim against the Clinton printer, little definite information has been available for publication.

There are at present in Mr. Browning's possession some sixty copies of the 1911 Hamiltonian which have not been delivered, and on which, according to the printer, a balance is due. These copies, it is the claim of the Class, were not delivered according to the terms of the contract. What action will be taken as regards this balance remains to be seen.

William H. Westcott, Business Manager of the Hamiltonian, has been fully exonerated by the Class. His accounts having been audited and found to be correct, Mr. Westcott has been approved in all matters of business efficiency, class spirit, and general management

There is little probability of any legal action being taken, since, from the standpoint of both the Senior Class and Mr. Browning the matter is simply that of an unpaid bill, the validity of which still remains in dispute.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

"Nothing would delight me more than to visit Round Top and hear its messages again, to take my place in the auditorium and hear the country's biggest and best leaders of men and toward bed time to join in Hamilton's delegation group and, perhaps, still later, rouse the silence of the valley with an old-time long Rah yell, then sing Carissima and 'lay me down in peace to sleep'. I tell you, as often as I think back to my two visits to Northfield, I live it all over again, and I live better afterward. Let me give my grateful testimony to any fellows who may be hesitating, sitting 'on the fence,' it is worth all it costs, indeed, its vaue is not to be measured in gold, but in good that goes to make character.

SPENCER, '09."

LOCAL DEPARTMENT

D. E. STONE, '13, Local Editor.

UNION AGAIN WINS.

Last Tuesday, for the second time this season, Union defeated Hamilton before a large crowd of spectators which the beautiful weather and the holiday had encouraged to attend. However, this game did not so clearly demonstrate the superiority of the Garnet as did the game at Clinton. The score of 15 to 14 presumes a rather ragged game, and so it was. Errors were plentiful on both sides and the fielders were kept busy retrieving the long hits. There were occasional meritorious plays, but, withal, the game, in so far as it was interesting, was so chiefly because neither team could hold the lead long. Hamilton scored four runs in the first inning by pounding the famous O'Keefe, and it looked like our victory, but Union, undaunted, overstepped our record by one run. And so it went throughout the game.

The Hamilton players objected strenuously to many of the umpire's decisions, so many, in fact, that the arbiter must occasionally have been at fault. If so, Union takes little satisfaction in their victory, and, while it does not make the result look any better on paper, the realization that Union's excellence was not alone responsible for our defeat should temper the bitterness of the disappointment. But it is foolish to object to an umpire, either in the game or afterwards. We must remember that the Union players took exception to the umpiring at Clinton, and that Hamilton deserved to lose by its poor playing.

Union stole bases rather frequently, owing to poor work of the men who covered the throws as well as to the inaccuracy of the throws themselves. Union hit so well, particularly in the latter part of the game, that it would seem to have been wise to have changed pitchers. Such a move might have availed nothing, but the chance was worth taking.

Knox made a fine catch of Hutchin's sharp liner in the fifth, and Sidle gathered in a long fly after a hard run, a feat which brought him a generous mead of praise from the spectators. Sidle also featured the hitting with a triple, a double, and a single, out of four times at bat. His triple in the first inning drove our first three runs across the plate. Sidle's playing has improved wonderfully.

We had hoped to defeat Union in the second game.
